5 Asks a stranger for help.

6 Gets into a bus without knowing the route.

7 Asks someone on the road for a lift.

8 Goes to his friend's house and starts playing without informing his family.

SOUNDS AMAZING

Whenever you are outside your house, never talk to strangers. You should never tell them anything about yourself or take anything from them.

Be Responsible

Now, you are a grown up child. You can do many things yourself without giving any trouble to your parents. It means you should become responsible.

If you become a responsible child:

- You can become self-dependent.
- Your parents will become happy.
- You can do your work on time.
- Your friends and teachers will admire you.

Let's see how responsible you are! Answer the following questions in Yes or No.

Do you get up yourself in the morning without a call from your parents?

 No

Do you finish your homework yourself?

 Yes

Do you sit to study without being reminded by your parents?

 Yes

Do you think before saying something.

 Yes

Do you take bath yourself?

 No

Do you put your things at their proper places?

 Yes

Do you switch off fans and lights when you do not need them?

 Yes

Do you arrange your school bag yourself?

 Yes

Being Eco-friendly

Here are some children talking about their habits. Colour the circle green if the habits are eco-friendly and red if they are not.

I let the tap water run while I brush my teeth.

I know that some soaps and cosmetics are tested on animals and they hurt them so I do not use those.

I use only paper and jute bags. They can be recycled. So, they do not pollute the Earth.

I reuse old wrapping paper to wrap presents.

Let's throw the trash in the water. No one will notice!

I donate my old clothes and toys so that they can be reused by someone.

I like plucking the leaves and flowers from trees all the time. Trees will grow new leaves and flowers.

I take a long shower every morning!

I water the plants every day using a water can.
