Global warming is a big problem affecting our Earth. It happens when the Earth's temperature increases due to the buildup of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere. These greenhouse gases trap the heat from the sun, causing the Earth's temperature to rise.

One of the main causes of global warming is the burning of fossil fuels like coal, oil, and gas. When we use these fuels for energy, such as in cars or power plants, they release carbon dioxide into the air. Carbon dioxide is a greenhouse gas that contributes to global warming.

Global warming has many negative effects on our planet. It causes changes in climate patterns, resulting in extreme weather conditions such as floods, heat waves, hurricanes, and droughts.

We all have a role to play in combating global warming. We can reduce our carbon footprint by using less energy, recycling, and planting trees. Using renewable energy sources like solar and wind power can also help reduce greenhouse gas emissions.
